I. Introduction

Mission

The mission of the Community Health Center of the New River Valley is to provide affordable and high quality medical, dental, behavioral and preventive health services to people of all ages and circumstances, regardless of ability to pay or insurance status.

About the Community Health Center

History

The Free Clinic of the New River Valley was founded in 1981 to serve the uninsured population of the New River Valley. Following the traditional Free Clinic model, area physicians, dentists, and other health care professionals were recruited to volunteer their services, both at the facility and in their own offices. In 2007, a third satellite clinic opened in Pearisburg and the Free Clinic began providing mental health care services at both clinics. In January 2014, the Free Clinic became a Community Health Center. In addition to serving uninsured adult patients, the Community Health Center now sees people of all ages, regardless of their insurance status.

II: Volunteer Policies

The Community Health Center of the New River Valley prides itself in its ability to offer the highest quality health care. As a volunteer, your time, energy, and efforts contribute to the strong assets of our "safety net" for uninsured citizens of the New River Valley. A commitment from you is a commitment to our community.

Expectations

As a Community Health Center Volunteer you can expect the following:

1. Professional and safe work environment;
2. Adequate information and training including a clear understanding of job responsibilities;
3. Trust and respect from Center staff and volunteers;
4. An opportunity to have your issues heard or grievances aired through the Site Manager.
5. Ongoing support and supervision by staff;
6. Recognition for your contributions.

General Policies

Please remember that when you are at the Center as a volunteer, you are representing the Community Health Center as a whole. All volunteers are expected to be professional and respectful of both patients and staff. This includes using appropriate language, having personal conversations away from patients and staff and asking a staff member what else you can do if your specific job is completed.

Orientation

All volunteers must attend a volunteer orientation. The orientation is given by the Site Manager. Volunteers should not “orient” other volunteers unless instructed to do so by the Site Manager.

Tours & Training

Volunteers will be given a tour of the Center as well as training for specific job assignments. Tours and training are only given by the Site Manager. Volunteers should not give tours or “train” other volunteers.

Scheduling

Once you are scheduled for a certain day and time shift, you are expected to arrive on time and leave when your shift has ended. If you need to change this, you must give at least one day’s notice, if possible. Please inform the Site Manager and the staff person you are assigned to at the Center.

Cancellations

If you need to miss a volunteer shift, you must give notice a week in advance, if at all possible. Last minute cancellations create scheduling frustrations. Being a volunteer requires the same type of commitment that a compensated job does. Please inform the Site Manager of cancellations as well as your department manager by email or phone.

Signing In

All volunteers must sign in upon arrival and sign-out when shifts end. This information helps the Center track hours used in reports for granting organizations.

Name Tags

All volunteers must wear a name tag at all times. The name tag will be given to you on your first work day. It is your responsibility to keep up with your name tag. You are required to turn in your name tag on your last day.

Cell Phones

When volunteering at the Center, cell phones should be turned off or turned to silent mode. Please try not to use your phone during your volunteer shift. If there is an emergency and you need to use your phone, please step outside for the duration of the call.

Dress Code

Your personal dress is part of the “first impression” that we give of ourselves and the health care profession. You will be asked to leave the Community Health Center to change if your dress does not follow these guidelines.
